

the new world of DC

NAPF Autumn Conference 2006

Thursday 21 September

ONE Great George Street London

Pensions are turning DC! 4 million people are already saving in DC pension arrangements and many millions more are set to follow as a result of the Government's White Paper proposals to develop a low-cost DC pension scheme to help those currently not saving.

But in a world where individuals are encouraged to take more personal responsibility for saving for old age, what does DC mean for individual savers? How will they deal with making investment decisions? Is there a better way of managing the transition from saving to annuitisation? And can DC investment and administration be improved? What can we learn from international experience of DC pensions?

With a top line-up of experts, this is a conference you simply can't afford to miss!
